

Students in grades 6–8 may select any book of their choice, but it should be a title they have not read before and should match their grade-level reading maturity. Students should be prepared to fill out a one-page summary when they return to school.